10:15—Run-off by above winners, $5.

10:30—Three-leg race, open to all boys and girls, $5 cash.

10:45—Sack race, open to all boys and girls, $5 cash.

11:00—Tug of war, for men and boys from the three counties, one box cigars.

Old Fiddlers' contest will be at the Manring theatre Friday night. All wishing to take part should register at the theatre box office or the Brown Amusement booth on the grounds. Fiddles will be furnished on request.

Injured In Fall From Porch

Garfield Matlock, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Matlock, of Hawley, was seriously injured when he fell backwards of the porch at their home Saturday. He was brought to the Bresheer-Brummett hospital in an unconscious condition but had regained consciousness and was reported as improving yesterday.

NO DEFINITE DATA ON OIL WELL YET

Work of Cleaning Out After Nitro-Glycerin—Results Known Next Week

Work of cleaning out the Rose Hill oil well which was "shot" Wednesday has not been finished, according to J. H. Walker. A large quantity of sand, dirt and broken stones has been removed from the bottom of the well where the nitro-glycerin was exploded though the exact results will not be known until it has all been taken out.

Prospects looked better Saturday than Thursday and Friday. A quantity of oil was mixed with the dirt that was taken out. The driller who has been doing the work has gone to Irvine and will not be back for a few days. On his return the remainder of the work will be done and more definite information regarding the richness of the well will be learned.

MINERS MEET AT WALLINS SUNDAY

U. M. W. Organizers Speak, Men Parade with Band—Special Train From Pineville

HARLAN, Sept. 18.—One of the largest miners' meetings ver held in Harlan county was held in front of the Wallins Creek colliefies store here Sunday. Fully 3,000 miners and their wives were in attendance, and were addressed by organizers of the United Mine Workers of America.

Speeches were made by T. J. Smith, Sanford Snyder and William Turnblazer, the latter being president of district 19. A note of defiance was hurled at the coal operators of Harlan county by Mr. Turnblazer who challenged them to do their utmost to crush the organization, claiming that in spite of their opposition the organization of the district and going on and that by April, 1924, the miners would be able to demand a joint wage scale.

At the conclusion of the speeches volunteer joiners were called for and several hundred men came forward and affiliated themselves with the United Mine Workers.

Practically every part of the county except Benham and Lynch, was represented. Special train from Pineville arrived about 9 o'clock carrying several hundred men, who joined in the parade preceding the speaking. The principal streets of the city were traversed, led by the Banner Fork brass band.

ARREST NEGRO FOR OFFICER'S MURDER

Accused of Killing Patrolman Who Detected Burglar Breaking Into Store

Associated Press

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 18—Ben Thacker, negro, 35, was arrested here today as a suspect in the murder of motorcycle patrolman Jesse Luden at Indianapolis June 13. Luden was slain by a burglar whom he detected breaking into a drug store. Thacker was formerly of Hopkinsville, Ky. Thacker denied knowledge of the killing but admitted, officers said, shooting a Hopkinsville negro in Philadelphia some time ago.

DR. HARRISON'S SON KILLED BY MOTOR IN CHATTANOOGA

Word of the death of his 15-year old son, Emmett, who was run over by a motor truck in Chattanooga yesterday afternoon was received by Dr. E. M. Harrison at Fork Ridge late yesterday. Dr. Harrison left immediately for Chattanooga by motor.

Dr. Harrison came to Fork Ridge about a week ago to tak up the work of camp physician. He was formerly there, leaving seven or eight years ago and he has numerous friends in this section.

Mrs. Harrison remained in Chattanooga with their thre children when The boy Emmett, had been in school Dr. Harrison came to Fork Ridge there.

REQUESTS FOR TEXT BOOKS FOR INDIGENT CHILDREN

Several requests for text books for indigent children were made to Miss Wilhelmina Marx yesterday, the opening day of the city schools. She requests that all persons who have books to please send them to her or notify her.

The board of education cannot furnish text books toindigent children this year as it has not sufficient funds. Many of them will have to depend solely on books that the public contribute.

No changes have been made in the text books this year and there are hundreds of them in the city which could be contributed to this cause.

R. M. KNIPP VICE PRESIDENT STATE FIRE ASSOCIATION

R. M. Knipp, Middlesboro fire chief, was elected one of the vice presidents of the Kentucky Fire Chiefs association at the convention at Louisville last week. Burris Hensley, chief of the Ashland fire department, was elected president. Fred Bryant of Pineville and L. R. Fisher of Harlan were also elected vice presidents.

A committee was appointed to prepare a bill for the legislature putting the fire departments under Civil Service regulations.

The meeting next year will be held at Covington.

NO STANDARD LIVING COST IN SOFT COAL AREA

Committee Says Wages Can't be Based on This—Food Costs in the Kansas Fields $544, in Ohio Fields $744

COMMISSION INSTRUCTIONS CAN'T BE COMPLIED WITH

Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—The bituminous operators' special committee informed the coal commission today that such a wide variation of living costs wa sfound in soft coal fields that it was impossible to fix a standard upon which wages could beased. Instructions in the law creating a commission calling fo rsuch a standard, the committee said, are not to be complied with.

The commission was told by the committee that its investigations found the yearly food costs for a family of five ranged from $544 in Kansas to $734 in Ohio. Rents also varied widely.

Weather Forecast

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—For Kentucky: Probably showers tonight and Wednesday; cooler in west portion Wednesday.

REPUBLICANS TO TAKE POLL VOTERS

City to be Divided Into Precincts to Insure Full Registration and Vote

A meeting to discuss preliminary plans of organization for the Republican campaign in Middlesboro was held this morning in the office of H. H. Hutcheson, chairman of the party here.

It was voted that a complete poll of the town be made immediately. Then the committee decided, the city should be divided into one hundred precincts wit ha captain in charge of each to insure that all eligible persons in the precinct came out to register and to vote. Details of this will be worked out later and captains will be appointed.

Those present at the meeting this morning were: William Wallbrecht, H. H. Hutcheson, H. C. Chappell, Dr. Jacob Slaitz, J. H. Keeney, Major E. S. Helburn, Reese Watkins, and Judge J. F. Bosworth.

COAL MINER INJURED AT CLIMA NTHIS MORNING

Ed Yoakum, coal loader at the Climax mines, was injured there this morning by falling slate. The injuries consisted of bruises on the side of the head and over the left ear. Full examination to determine the seriousness of the injury had not been determined by a physician at the last report.

SEEK BODIES IN RUINS OF BERKLEY FIRE

Six Hundred Residences Destroyed, 2500 Made Homeless, Loss Near Five Millions in Conflagration Last Night

CAUGHT FROM BRUSH FIRE ON EDGE OF CITY

Associated Press

BERKLEY, Cal., Sept. 18.—Search for bodies in the charred ruins of Cragmont, a sectio nof Berkley, continues today. The conflagration resulted from a brush fire on outskirts of city. It destroyed 600 residences in 60 blocks and rendered homeless 2500 persons. The latest estimates place the loss between three and five million. Berkley and Oakland fire departments today continued to throw water on the debris which is guarded by the national guard police and citizens sworn in for emergency.

New H. S. Sidewalk Half Complete

The sidewalk from Twentieth street to th new high school building is about half completed. It is eight feet in width and was ordered built by the city board of education for convenience of the pupils of the new high school.

BARCELONA, "SPAIN'S IRELAND" IS START OF SPANISH COUP D'ETAT

QUEEN VICTORIA

SENOR ALBA, MINISTER OF FOREIGN AFFAIRS

Dissatisfaction by the military factions of Spain over the conduct of the Morroccan campaign finally has burst the surface. A coup d'etat, starting in Barcelona, has, according to cabled reports, spread rapidly throughout the provinces of the country. Officers of the army would appear to be behind the movement, which as yet has not assumed the ugly proportions of a revolution.

Catalonia, or the Catalan provinces, have been referred to frequently as Spain's Ireland.

Its people have enjoyed independence in their time and have never admitted that they were Spanish. On racial grounds they have considerable justification for their claims. Their language differs from the Castilian and in appearance and temperament they are very unlike the inhabitants of the rest of Spain.

In particular they are industrious and enterprising and between their bustling capital, Barcelona, one of the business manufacturing and commercial cities in Europe, and such sleepy centers as Madrid the contrast is as marked as between Chicago and any overgrown Podunk.

In what grows out of this, rather than because of any sentimental wish for a separate national life, is to be found the reason for the Catalan separationist movement. Being the great producing section of the country, Catalonia pays the bulk of the taxes—but Madrid spends them. In fact, in the Catalan's opinion, Madrid throws them away. They object to supporting the rest of Spain.

For this waste, as Catalonia sees it, the Spanish war in Morocco is mainly responsible. When the war lags, so does the separationist movement. When there's a fresh outburst of war activity separationist activities revive.

In 1909 there was a tremendous revolt in Barcelonia against continuation of the war. Premier Maura put it down with heavy slaughter, but discontent has simmered ever since.

FIRST REGULAR SCHOOL TODAY

Confusion Straightened Out As Pupils Settle Down to Nine Months' Work

The first regular session of the city schools began this morning. A certain amount of confusion which ever attends the opening of schools was apparent though indications are that the work of organization and assignment to classes is progressing well and that within a few days, pupils will have settled down to regular work.

The central school building which is used only by the grades this year does not seem to be any too large for this purpose, all the space being used. Rooms in the city hall and library which were used for school purposes last year will, of course, not be used this year.

Shelburne's store, where text books are sold, presented a busy scene yesterday. All day, throngs of women and children crowded the place to buy books and supplies for the coming term.

JUDGE BOSWORTH GOES TO REPUBLICAN STATE MEET

Judge J. F. Bosworth will go to Louisville tomorrow to be present at a meeting of the Kentucky Republicans to be held there tomorrow afternoon. C. I. Dawson, republican nominee for governor, who is campaigning the state at present, will be at this meeting.

MERCHANTS MEET AT 2 TOMORROW

To Make Final Arrangement for Fall Festival Which Opens Here Thursday

An important meeting of the Merchants' association will be held on the Harvest Festival grounds at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon for the purpose of making final arrangements for the Festival, according to S. M. Reams, president of the association.

The Festival will open Thursday and it is important that the promoters get together on the eve of the opening to discuss the details of the fair and to have a clear understanding of the part each is to play in it.

Work of erecting merchants' booths on the grounds continues and is now practically finished. Committees for the various phases of three days' program have their details practically complete so that the event may be a complete success.

NOBLES PREDICTS MORE QUAKES BEFORE END OF SEPTEMBER

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 18.—"Before the end of September volcanic eruptions will occur in Eastern Europe or Western Asia. They will be preceded by earthquakes strongly felt in Central Europe and Northern Africa. The center of the disturbances may be in Western Asia, but more brobably in eastern central France."

This is the latest prediction of Dr. Milton A. Nobles, geologist and student of earthquakes, who a year ago propheried the list of disasters in a "death belt" he traced through Japan, Siberia, India, Persia, Asia Minor, Dalmatia and Italy—the exact spits where most of the big earthquakes occurred during the year!

In a recent interview printed in this paper, Dr. Nobles predicted a world cataclysm within ten years, in which the world would shift on its axis, engulfing all Europe and enlarging the Americas.

Sen. Looney Says Government Should Insure Republican Form in the State as Guaranteed by Constitution

MARTIAL LAW STILL REIGNS UNDER GOV. WALTON

Associated Press

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 18.—State Senator Joseph Looney, in a statement here today, suggested that the Federal government in Oklahoma as guranteed by the constitution of the United States." The statement related to attempts to assemble the state legislature without call by Governor Walton whose proclamation of state-wide martial law Saturday night threw the commonwealth into official state of rebellion, as the outgrowth of Walton's war on the Ku-Klux klan.

MODELS OF BURKE'S CLOCK TO BE MANUFACTURED SOON

John C. Burke, inventor of a 400-day clock, has recently submitted models of it to a Cincinnati firm for manufacture. Alarm, hall, office and mantle clocks are included in the six models, though the latter will be finished first.

Mr. Burke says that he expects to receive the manufactured model within the next two or three weeks, possibly in time for the district Kiwanis convention.

The models were submitted to another firm a few months ago, but owing to their inability to do the work within a reasonable time, they were withdrawn and sent to the Cincinnati firm.

SURVEY LAST LINK OF HARLAN-PINEVILLE ROAD

HARLAN, Sept. 18.—H. H. Asher, Road Commissioner of Pineville, recently sent Mr. Posey, Division Engineer, of Ashland, to re-survey and locate or check up the gap from Harlan to Emerling, the only remaining gap in the Harlan—Pineville road. Mr. Posey has finished the survey on the old location along the rail road to Loyal and at the request of several interested parties, made a test location on the south side of Cumberland river from Emerling to Baxter for comparison in cost of construction with the old route, but it is understood that the engineer left with a decided opinion against crossing the river and will report his opinion to the State Engineer.

CALLISON CONTESTS OPEN TILL 1:30 P. M. SATURDAY

The W. J. Callison store has announced that guesses may be registered for their three contests up to 1:30 Saturday afternoon. A set of Restrite springs, a White Swan mattress and a Sellers kitchen cabinet will be given away during the Harvest Festival.

The Allen Lumber company has announced that it will have a drawing contest, conducted in the manner of the others previously announced in which two gallons of Mastic paint and two rools of Rubberoid roofing, the combined value being $15.

A THOUGHT

A fool uttereth all his mind: but a wise man keepeth it still afterward.—Prov. 29:11.

Speak fitly, or be silent wisely.—George Herbert.

ALL MIDDLESBORO PEOPLE SHOULD SUPPORT FESTIVAL

The last three days of this week the Harvest Festival will be held in this city. This Festival is a fair, planned at great expense and work by the Merchants of Middlesboro, for the purpose of bringing about a better understanding and closer relations between the people of this city and the residents of the rural districts directly tributary to it.

This festival is planned by the merchants, financed by them, and will, of course, directly benefit them more than anything else. But indirectly, the fostering of better relations between Middlesboro and the country round-about, will benefit every resident of this city, and for this reason every person here who has interests of the city in any way at heart, should consider it his or her duty to help make the festival a success.

Every dollar of trade that is drawn into Middlesboro instead of being spent some place else, means in the long run better schools, better streets, better buildings and better facilities everywhere in this city, benefitting thus every person in the town.

To make the Festival a real success, local citizens should, first, turn out in numbers to see the exhibits, all of which will be well worth seeing. Whole-hearted support by all Middlesboro people will go farther toward putting the Festival over than any thing else. Then we should extend a gracious welcome to all visitors, on the streets, in our places of business and wherever we meet them, assuring them in every way that we have their interests at heart and that they are more than welcome in our city at any time. If we co-operate in this merchants and citizens, in anything like a reasonable way, there is no danger but that the Festival will go over one hundred per cent and be the biggest occasion of the kind ever held in this city.

"COOLIDGE CARRYING ON"

It is said by some that in the few weeks of his administration Coolidge has been "carrying on." Hine has already demonstrated that he is doing more than that. He has exhibited an understanding of situations. The policy of his chief, in inviting him to be present at cabinet meetings, was a wise policy. And Coolidge is the sort of a man to profit by it. The country shares in the profit.

President Coolidge is a worker and a thinker. He knows a good thing when he sees it and how to take hold of it. He is not fishing for public praise or for favorable public opinion, he prefers to create honest and fair public opinion. He believes that what is right, will meet in time the approval of the public.

Few men in public life in our country in the past have done more to lead public opinion in their spheres than has been done by Calvin Coolidge. His nomination for Vice-President on the ticket with Harding came in the nature of a surprise to the public in general. The country was not slow in seeing that the nomination was a wise thing, not for his party alone but for the country as a whole.

As a party man, Coolidge is not blind to the faults of the would-be leaders. All of us have faults, but when he sees a fault he is not afraid to speak of it, even at the risk of making an enemy of the one he believes at fault, but he prefers to do it face to face—each or turn to talk over it to another.

Lincoln was credited with saying that the Lord must love the common people, otherwise he would not have made so many of them. Coolidge has not said that, but it is known that he has associated with and has loved the common people. He is the son of a man who has been what is a common farmer, and he has worked on the farm himself.

Coolidge is the fast friend of his countrymen and of his country, irrespective of classes, those of them who are law-abiding lovers of freedom and liberty.—Journal and Tribune.

THE OPEN FORUM

Editor Daily News:

Speaking of improving conditions, politically, in Middlesboro, reminds us of one of Mark Twain's sayings: that we are always complaining about the weather, but we never do anything about it.

We citizens have done a great deal of cussing and discussing about the way public affairs are mismanaged; now what are we going to do about it, with the election just at hand? Shall we put forth our united strength at the polls or shall we sit supinely, as heretofore, and let "the old guard" put the same old thing over on us? Now is the time to decide.

Just as soon as we took our schools out of politics they began to rapidly improve. Real business men have managed the building of the 5 new schools, and have kept within the amount of money allotted them for this purpose.

Professional politicians know precious little about real business; then why not elect two men as commissioners who have made a success of their private business?

We hear of a "whispered slate," why the secrecy? Are they ashamed of their proposed candidates; and the principles for which they will stand? Are we going to be so dumb that we will stand for such tactics? If we are, then we must refrain from criticising the elected officials. Those who are willingest to work and vote, are the ones who will have the Commissioners they prefer.

Be assured the politicians are counting on the customary indifference of citizens at all elections. Other towns have thrown off political yokes. We can do what other towns have done. Do it now. The only place where opinions have weight, is at the polls. Won't some one rise up and lead us out of the political wilderness? So many are willing to follow.

Any citizen qualified to be a commissioner, may become a candidate by filing a petition signed by at least 50 voters. Any lawyer will draw up the petition which must be in the hands of the County Clerk by October 9. File in person; it might be lost (?) in the mail.

PRISON REFORM HIS LIFE TASK

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Is the criminal as black as he's painted?

Generally not, says Earl E. Dudding, head of the Prisoners' Relief Society, with headquarters in Washington.

Dudding himself spent four years in the Moundsville (W. Va.) prison, following conviction of a charge of second degree murder. His plea was self-defense.

Released, he devoted his life to relieving, both within and without the bars, the lot of men who have fallen athwart the law.

He finds jobs annually for thousands of convicts released from the country's penitentiaries, and so well has he established his contention that the average convict is a victim of circumstances rather than a deliberate wrong doer, that today 20,000 representative employers of labor take his work as a bond for any ex-convict trying to win back to respectability.

"And more than 90 per cent of such men," says Dudding, "have made good. Of the few who slip, the greater number are mental defectives."

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT TO LESLIE PRESCOTT, CARE OF THE SECRET DRAWER

I wonder, dear little Marquise, if always when you were happiest something happened that made you feel most insecure. Of course Dad paid all my hospital bills and he gave me a thousand dollars because he had sent a thousand to Allen, but Jack told me a couple of weeks ago that I must not ask Dad for more money, that we must try and get along upon his salary and commissions.

They have been very good lately but, oh dear little Marquise, I wonder if you ever had to try to stretch a dollar into two? I must have a nurse for little Jack. The woman I have is stupid and helps me in many ways. She is much better for both baby and me than a trained nurse would be and not nearly as expensive.

About a week ago Jack was worrying greatly about finances and I told him I would let my maid go. He insisted I should do no such thing and I gently reminded him that two and two never make five.

I was trying to help him, dear little Marquise, and would you believe it, he seemed to be hurt. He asked me, "I must let one or the other go, why didn't I dismiss the nurse. I told him quite so I had someone to take care of the baby, I would be confined to the house all the time, that I would much rather do my own work and have a nurse for Junior than try to take care of him myself.

"We would have someone in occasionally if you wished to go out, Les," he said.

"I couldn't leave him to a hit or miss person," I answered. "Something might happen to him."

"Don't you worry Leslie," he rejoined. "If we had sent that child where mother thinks he belongs, he would have had to scramble up the best he could."

Oh, little Marquise, I hope I'll never see again on Jack's face the look that I saw then. As it was I said, "Oh, surely John, you are not sorry we have him?"

"No, he answered slowly, "he is like my own child, but I want you to understand, Leslie, that I think your happiness and your health worth more to me than all the babies in the world."

"But if my own baby had lived, John—"

"Well, of course, that's a different matter," he answered.

"But you said you didn't know any difference."

"Well, I don't think I do. I'd probably be just as annoyed with any baby that made you work hard and look tired and uncomfortable."

"Have I been looking tired and uncomfortable, Jack," I asked. "I think I was looking particularly well today."

"No, but you will do so if you have to do housework."

"I'm going to try, anyway, Jack."

And that is the reason, little Marquise, that for four or five weeks I haven't written you. Old Nannie, my nurse, has proved herself a treasure and although she knows that her first duties are to Junior, yet she helps me a lot at other things. I get along very much better than I did at first, for I have learned and am still learning how to do housework in a systematic manner. Besides, I have learned to live more simply.

Dear little Marquise, I expect you never soiled your dainty fingers with housework. You only lived for love and laughter. I wish I knew if you were continually happy.

TOMORROW—Leslie to herself—An exciting dinner.

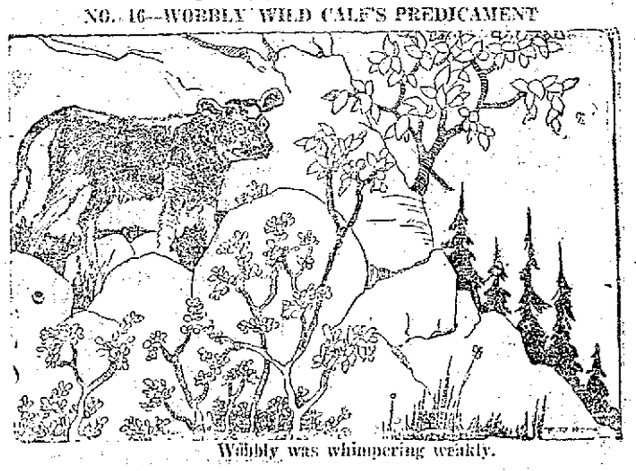
Adventures of The Twins

By Olive Roberts Barton

NO. 16—WOBBLY WILD CALF'S PREDICAMENT



Wobbly was whimpering weakly.

Missez White-Face Wild Cow had lost her baby and she mooed so hard her voice came down from the mountain meadows like rolls of thunder.

It came down the mountains, Missez Wild Cow's voice did, until Nancy and Nick and Mister Gallop heard it and stopped their ponies where they were racing over the plain to see who could go the fastest.

"My goodness!" said Mister Gallop. "Something dreadful must be wrong to make the old lady yell so. The last I saw of her she was eating grass as quietly as a spring lamb up there in her mountain meadow, with Wobbly Wild Calf beside her. Come, we'll have to hurry as fast as we can to see what the matter is." And Mister Gallop turned his pony in its tracks and shot off toward the mountains like a comet, with the Twins trailing after him like a tail.

They climbed the narrow road up and up till at last they saw Missez Cow standing near a high rocky cliff, her nose stuck up in the air.

"What's up?" called Mister Gallop loudly. "For goodness sake, do quit that racket long enough to tell me what's up."

"Wobbly's up," said Missez Wild Cow, shaking her head at him reproachfully. "He's up there on top of that high rocky cliff and he can't get down and I can't get to him. I didn't want him to go, but he said he saw some white stuff that looked like salt and he was going to try to get it. And now he's stuck. Just take a look and see for yourselves!"

So they craned their necks and there, sure enough, was Wobbly Wild Calf standing on a little narrow place only a week old. He hadn't as much voice as his mammy.

Mister Gallop shook his head soberly. "I'm afraid I can't get at him, Missez Cow," he said. "My lasso would reach him but I couldn't get him down. I'm sorry but—"

"Oh, look!" cried Nancy suddenly.

There was a great rush of wings and Grandfather Golden Eagle swooped down on Wobbly and picked him up in his claws before anybody knew what was happening.

Then very softly he dropped him beside his mother.

Berton Braley's Poem

THE BENEDICT

Sometimes, when I think of my bachelor days,
When I was as free as the air,
Without anybody to question my ways
Or ask me the why and the where;
I heave just a wee little bit of a sigh,
For days that are pleasant to scan,
I cut quite a swath in those seasons gone by,
But now—I'm a Family Man.

"And then," I consider, "my soul was my own;
I did what it pleased me to do,
My cares of today were completely unknown,
My debts and my worries were few.
No wife and no children for me to support,
I roved with the bachelor clan,
Ah then I was truly a free-handed sport,
But now—I'm a Family Man."

Yes, often I think of those days with delight,
When I was a bachelor free;
But when I come home from my labors at night,
And find my kids waiting for me;
And Mary is there at the door with a kiss,
The same as when wedlock began,
I chuckle, "In life nothing's better than this,
Thank God, I'm a Family Man."

Vegetable Salads

Vegetable salads are quite appropriate for the fall Raw vegetables are used in a jellied salad or merely shredded and used in combination with a simple French dressing.

This cabbage concoction takes the place of a regular salad and is delicious with fish.

Combination Salad

Two cups minced cabbage, 1-2 cup minced celery, 1-2 cup minced carrots, 2 sweet green peppers, 3 tablespoons sugar, 1 cup hot vinegar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, 3 tablespoons oil.

Put vegetables in a mixing bowl. Season with salt, pepper and sugar and pour over vinegar brought to the boiling point Let stand until cold and stir in oil. Serve with or without lettuce.

The vegetables should be cut in very fine dice of uniform size.

Carrot Salad

One cup grated carrots, 1-2 lemon, 1-2 teaspoons salt, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1 cup whipped cream, paprika, lettuce

Grat rind of lemon and squeeze out juice. Add salt, sugar, grated rind and juice to grated carrots. Whip cream until stiff and fold in carrot mixture. Serve on lettuce and sprinkle with paprika

Molded Salad

Two tablespoons granulated gelatin, 1 cup shredded cabbage, 1 cup diced sour apples, 1-2 cup diced celery, 1-2 cup nut meats, 1 tablespoon sugar, 6 tablespoons lemon juice, 1-3 cup cold water, 2 cups boiling water, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, paprika, lettuce mayonnaise.

Soften gelatin in cold water. Add boiling water and stir until dissolved. Let stand until beginning to jelly. Add lemon juice. Mix cabbage, apples and celery with sugar, salt and pepper. Add nuts and stir well Fold into jelly and turn into a mold. Let stand on ice to chill and become firm. Serve on lettuce with mayonnaise and a dash of paprika.

Golden Salad

One cup thinly sliced carrots, 1 cup grated apples, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 egg white, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1 cup whipped cream, 2 tablespoons granulated gelatin, 1-3 cup cold water, 1 cup boiling water, lettuce, mayonnaise.

Line a bowl or mold with slices of tender carrots. Pour in a little gelatin softened in the cold water and dissolved in boiling water. Put a smaller bowl inside the large one and let stand until the jelly is firm. Pour boiling water in the bowl and it will slip out of the jelly without disturbing the form. Beat the white of egg until stiff and dry with sugar and salt. Fold in grated apple. Add lemon juice to remaining gelatin. When gelatin begins to set fold in egg mixture and whipped cream. Turn into carrot mold and put on ice to chill and become firm. Serve on lettuce with mayonnaise.

WHAT'S GOING ON IN THE WORLD

In the matter of the Greco Italian dispute the League of Nations seems to have saved its face anyway

It's threatened to quit the league if her Greek policy were interfered with Yet the league couldn't let Mussolini defy it completely It would have been too flagrant North Ireland the case be passed up also

Lots in Iron Mountain has been sold by the West End both sides being made by J H McGaheney

The old court house in the Triangle is being removed and a new business block is being put on

The front of the Turner building on Nineteenth street formerly occupied by Brown Bros is being painted

Dr Yuber has been granted permits to build two residence houses on Winchester avenue at a cost of $1700 each and one dwelling on Cumberland at an approximate cost of $ 500

The front of the Fair Woolworth store has recently been painted and white has indicating the quality and variety of goods on sale have been printed In addition the electric sign is suspended over the sidewalk

On account of the surface of the roof of the city hall more asphaltum is required than was expected The question of buying an additional supply has been referred to the building committee

Concrete foundations for the new buildings at the corner of the Virginia hotel are being made The forms will be constructed of wood and will be used as a pressed slab

Brick work on the front of the West North colored church continues and it is expected to be finished within a few days

More Trouble Ahead

A state between Italy and Jugo Slavia (Greater Serbia) is likely next Each country thinks she ought to have Fiume Mussolinis proposed a compromise form of government of the city Jugoslavia doesn't like it Neither seems intent been broken off yet but there will be to be the minute

It's not so much of the policy of Italy as a nation but of the irresponsible personal ambition of Mussolini that Europe is most afraid

Mine Strike Over?

Indications are that the hard coal strikes ended—nearly

Mine owners and miners have accepted the compromise Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania proposed

The men at work over the week end to have a new agreement The final call of the workers will have to ratify it but its almost certain that to do so

It isn't a permanent settlement however—just postponed the evil day

Good From Evil

In one respect the Japanese disaster good

Trouble was simmering between this country and Japan It might have come to a boil but there was danger

Now from sympathy with the Japanese on America's part and from free ly expressed gratitude on the part of the Japanese for America's prompt and liberal aid its likely this danger will be removed at least for years to come

Koreans Are Blamed

It is ordinary at a moment of great natural disaster that political discontent manifests itself but it's done so in Japan It's said to be very severe Koreans are blamed The Japanese brought this on themselves by their rule of Korea and their government's methods there but it's a terrible time for them to have to answer for it

In the Ruhr

French papers—not so much those in Germany—keep hinting at progress toward settlement of the Ruhr difficulty According to rumor French and German 'big business' men are trying to an agreement If so there hope of an end to the trouble for it's been a business dispute from the start

United States Constitution

Preamble

We, the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect Union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America.

Article I

Section 1.—(Legislative powers; in whom vested.)

All legislative powers herein granted shall be vested in a Congress of the United States, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives.

Section 2.—(House of Representatives, how and by whom chosen. Qualifications of Representative. Representatives and direct taxes, how apportioned. Enumeration. Vacancies to be filled. Power of choosing officers, and of impeachment.)

1.—The house of Representatives shall be composed of members chosen every second year by the people of the several States, and the electors in each State shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the State Legislature.

2.—No person shall be a representative who shall not have attained to the age of twenty-five years, and been seven years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that State in which he shall be chosen.

3.—Representatives and direct taxes shall be apportioned among the several States which may be included within the Union according to their respective numbers, which shall be determined by adding to the whole number of free persons, including those bound to service for a term of years, and excluding Indians not taxed, three-fifths of all other persons. The actual enumeration shall be made within three years after the first meeting of the Congress of the United States, and within every subsequent term of ten years, in such manner as they shall by law direct. The number of Representatives shall not exceed one for every thirty thousand, but each States shall have at least one Representative; and until such enumeration shall be made, the State of New Hampshire shall be entitled to choose 3; Massachusetts, 8; Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, 1; Connecticut, 5; New York, 6; New Jersey, 4; Pennsylvania, 8; Delaware, 1; Maryland, 6; Virginia, 10; North Carolina, 5; South Carolina, 5; and Georgia, 3.*

4.—When vacancies happen in the representation from any State, the Executive authority thereof shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies.

5.—The House of Representatives shall choose their speaker and other officers, and shall have the sole power of impeachment.

Section 3.—Senators, how and by whom chosen. How classified. State Executive, when to make temporary appointments, in case, etc. Qualifications of a Senator. President of the Senate, his right to vote. President pro tem., and other officers of the Senate, how chosen. Power to try impeachments. When President is tried, Chief Justice to preside. Sentence.)

1.—The Senate of the United States shall be composed of two Senators from each State, chosen by the Legislature thereof, for six years; and each Senator shall have one vote.

2.—Immediately after they shall be assembled in consequence of the first election, they shall be divided as equally as may be into three classes. The seats of the Senators of the first class shall be vacated at the expiration of the second year, of the second class at the expiration of the fourth year, and of the third class at the expiration of the sixth year, so that one-third may be chosen every second year; and if vacancies happen by resignation, or otherwise, during the recess of the Legislature of any State, the Executive thereof may make temporary appointment until the next meeting of the Legislature, which shall then fill such vacancies.

3.—No person shall be a Senator who shall not have attained to the age of thirty years, and been nine years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that State for which he shall be chosen.

4.—The Vice-President of the United States shall be President of the Senate, but shall have no vote unless they be equally divided.

5.—The Senate shall choose their officers, and also a President pro tempore, in the absence of the Vice-President, or when he shall exercise the office of President of the United States.

6.—The Senate shall have the sole power to try all impeachments. When sitting for that purpose, they shall be on oath or affirmation. When the President of the United States is tried, the Chief Justice shall preside: and no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members present.

7.—Judgement of cases of impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from office, and disqualification to hold and enjoy any office of honor, trust, or profit under the United States; but the party convicted shall nevertheless be liable and subject to indictment, trial, judgment, and punishment, according to law.

Section 4.—(Times etc., of holding elections, how prescribed. One Session in each year.)

1.—The times, places, and manner of holding elections for Senators and Representatives shall be prescribed in each State by the Legislature thereof, but the Congress may at any time by law make or alter such regulations except as to places of choosing Senators.

2.—The Congress shall assemble at least once in every year, and such meeting shall be on the first Monday in December, unless they shall by law appoint a different day.

Section 5.—(Membership. Quorum. Adjournments. Rules. Power to punish or expel. Journal. Time of adjournments, how limited, etc.)

1.—Each House shall be the judge of the elections, returns, and qualifications of its own members, and a majority of each shall constitute a quorum to do business; but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may be authorized to compel the attendance of absent members in such manner and under such penalties as each House may provide.

2.—Each House may determine the rules of its proceedings, punish its members for disorderly behavior, and with the concurrence of two-thirds expel a member.

3.—Each House shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and from time to time publish the same, excepting such parts as may in their judgment require secrecy; and the yeas and nays of the members of either House on any question shall, at the desire of one-fifth of those present, be entered on the journal.

4.—Neither House, during the session of Congress, shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other place than that in which the two Houses shall be sitting.

JOHN ROBINSON'S CIRCUS COMES TO TOWN TOMORROW

And it is no other than the John Robinson Circus and trained wild animals, now on its 100th anniversary tour, with new features galore, and a program that is said to completely fill three rings, two steel arenas, and a hippodrome track. A regular top-notch circus, with a rapid-fire, quick-action, and up-to-the-minute display is promised, including the time-honored side features, the peanuts, red lemonade, and elephants and clowns.

The John Robinson trains will arrive in the wee hours of the morning. Unloading will start immediately after the trains arrive in the railroad yards and the horses, elephants, camels, and the wild animal cages, the band wagons and all the other paraphernalia of the big show will be hurried to the circus grounds, where the tented city will literally spring from the ground. Preparations will be made and completed for the grand free street parade and the two huge and lively performances are scheduled to follow.

The first performance takes place at two o'clock, and the final one at 8 p. m. The doors will be opened an hour earlier to afford visitors an opportunity to visit the circus zoo and to hear the concert by the John Robinson band, under the direction of Edward Woeckener. The performance will open with an allegorical fantasy, "Peter Pan in Animal Land," which is picturesquely impressive. The kaleidiscopic coloring and beauty of costuming, which will be on view, makes this spectacle, superior to "King Solomon," and the Queen of "Sheba," the first and most famous of all circus spectacles.

The three-ring, two-steel arena, performance that follows, offers it is declared, a constant succession of circus thrills, interspersed with wholesome comedy by a big company of noted clowns. Over a score of wild animal numbers will be presented. Three herds of trained elephants, camels, and scores of highly educated horses, and other acting animals will also participate in the program, which includes acrobatic and aerial numbers, and all the other circus features.

The parade leaves the circus grounds at 11 o'clock sharp.

Cause of Goiter

The cause of goiter has been recently subjected to much discussion on the part of physicians and laymen alike.

Much light has been thrown on the so-called sources of focal infection. Mysteries which have surrounded goiter, chronic rheumatism and diseases of the stomach and kidneys, have been under strict observation. Intestinal stagnation may cause true infection by micro-organisms penetrating the tissues. However, many cases of chemical poisoning, it is now believed, are due to focal infection, arising in other regions.

Dr. De Courcy of Cincinnati, head of the goiter clinic at Seton Hospital, has advanced the statement that goiter is caused by fatigue or excessive exercise. After the treatment of three thousand patients, he is positive that much careful thought must be given the subject of physical exercise in schools and other places, by girls and women.

Eight women develop goiter to every two men.

"Excessive athletic and gymnastic work, especially in high schools, when girls are going through the adolescent period, in my opinion is being overdone at present," the doctor says.

"Several years ago I advanced the theory that fatigue plays an important part in the production of goiter, and I felt that the growth develops when the normal limit of a patient's endurance is exceeded, whether suddenly or gradually. Women develop goiter more readily, because their zone of endurance is more narrowed than that of men.

If the growth of goiter in girls and women can be prevented by careful dieting and, as Dr. Courcy says, by avoiding nervous tension and strenuous exercise; one of the greatest disdisasters may be a thing of the past in a comparatively few years.

"BARNEY GOOGLE AND SPARK PLUG" AT MANRING TONIGHT

The offering at the Manring theater tonight will be "Barney Google and Spark Plug", considered by many to be the best cartoon musical comedy of the season. Written around the famous cartoon characters of "Barney Google and Spark Plug," of which Billy Debeck is the creator and originator, the author William K. Wells, who is also author of George White's Scandals, Ted Lewis' Revue and the new Greenwich Village Follies, is said to have provided a performance that is an entertaining melange of mirthful, melodious music and exquisite girly girls beautifully gowned. The music is by Con Conrad, author of the biggest song hit of the year—"Barney Google."
